

2007 Eaglepoint Ranch Vineyard Petite Sirah

100% Petite Sirah

Appellation: Mendocino

Production: 249 cases

Alcohol: 15%

Retail: $45

Tasting Notes: Aromatics of blackberry pie, piping hot right out of the oven. Also sweet tobacco, crème brûlée, followed by hints of dark chocolate covered coffee beans. The palate is as outrageous as the aromas but with a more expansive feeling. This wine truly shows what Petite Sirah is all about; big, dense, flamboyant, powerful, with just a touch of finesse.

Pair With: The heartiest of roasted meats, stews and any meat that walks on the wild side! Tastes great with a rare to mid-rare hamburger loaded with the works. You'll have to forget calorie counting for this one. Drink now to 15 years.

"Eaglepoint Ranch offers sweeping vistas that take in hundreds of miles of the mountainous terrain of Mendocino County and beyond. The ranch's mountain soil sits at an elevation of 1,700 feet and late-afternoon breezes help keep the grapes at a moderate temperature. This vineyard is truly amazing, yielding wines with extreme concentration and intense varietal character."

- Jeff Cohn

Wine Spectator

LEARN MORE, DRINK BETTER

93 Points "Shows wonderful rich espresso, toffee and chicory notes, with chewy tannins and dark, ripe huckleberry, cassis, blackberry and licorice flavors. A dense, sink-your-teeth-into-it Petite, with wonderful concentration, detail and length. Drink now through 2015. 249 cases made." MW

92+ Points

92 Points